

Comments About "Paradise Found" Article in Acre's USA Magazine August 2012
by Norm Baker, Subject of the Article

Lauren;

Very pleased with the article. All my buds are impressed...Thanks for your good work.

Lauren;

I thought I would give you an update on the results of your article in Acre's. Of course we sent it to our families. They were all pleased and called us tree huggers. I sent it to my Sierra Club ExCom and Sequim organic gardeners and had numerous complementary responses. All of that was wonderful. Probably a total of about a dozen responses.

Take care,
Norm

Lauren;

Keep me informed on what you are writing. I like your style. You also have a keen sense of what needs to be said.

Norm

Excerpt from Norm and Peggy Baker's Christmas Newsletter 2012

...One unique thing happened this year. A local writer, Lauren Turner, asked us if we would be willing to do an interview with her so she could write an article about our homestead. Her article was published in Acre's magazine last August. Acre's is a national publication that is dedicated to environmental sustainability and eco-agroculture. She titled the article "Paradise Found" ...Norm and Peggy Baker spent years designing and building their sustainable dream homestead. As you might guess, this article was a hit with all our Sierra Club buddies and friends and neighbors. Sometimes you never know what you've accomplished until it is examined through someone else's eyes.
